ITALY WANTS MAJORITY OF DEBT ERASED

Commission Requests Cancellation of 80 Per Cent of Obligations

NATION OUTBEGS FRANCE
Paris Proposed Cancelling One-third and London One-fifth of Liability

Washington, D. C.—Italy has asked for an 80 per cent cancellation of her war debt with America. This is what her offer amounts to when reduced to present day values. The French proposal represented a request for about 31 per cent cancellation, while the British settlement with America is on a basis of 20 per cent cancellation.

These estimates are arrived at by taking the market value of the promised payments made by the foreign debtors. For example a promise to pay $40,000,000 for five years, then $60,000,000 for seven years and $100,000,000 annually for the next 56 years would appear to total $6,220,000,000, but that sum is spread over 68 years and the chance of non-payment due to poor economic conditions or wars are regarded as creating a certain risk. This is true of any payment spread over a long time.

VALUES DIFFER
The American government estimated that the present-day value of the French proposal outlined above was actually $1,750,000,000. In the plan which the American government presented to the French the present-day value would have been $2,500,000,000 or about 58 per cent cancellation on an amount over $4,100,000,000 which the United States has to meet in charges to its taxpayers.

The French didn't accept even that proposition and the negotiations wound up with a proposal that annual payments of $40,000,000 be made for five years and a revision of the whole problem be undertaken in 1931. Exactly the same situation now presents itself with Italy except that the latter has made a proposal which would mean 80 per cent cancellation on both principal and interest due Italy owes $2,138,543,851 on principal and accrued interest. The Italians wanted to spread the payments over 62 years so that the total would bring about $2,100,000,000. In present-day values such a settlement would be worth approximately $5,000,000.

FEAR CRITICISM
The American commission is anxious to make a settlement but men like Senator Smoot who have to face congressional criticism can't see how they can get such a pact through and they fear also that a dangerous precedent would be established if so large an amount of the Italian debt were cancelled.

The leaders in congress who would have to bear the brunt of the attack on the administration know that it would be hard to answer the arguments of critics if an 80 per cent cancellation were given. For example the opponents of the plan would argue that the American government has to pay 3 1/2 per cent for borrowed money now and has some out-and-out Liberty bonds on which 4 1/2 per cent has to be paid. If Italy doesn't pay an equivalent interest charge on the principal she has borrowed originally namely $1,647,869,187, then the American taxpayers will have to pay it.

NAB BROTHERS FOR KEEPING STOLEN BONDS

Men Found Hidden Treasure of Three Persons Murdered Near Sauk City

Baraboo — (AP) — Two brothers, Delbert Bills, Beloit, and William Bills, Baraboo, are here in jail on a charge of receiving stolen property. Officers alleged that the pair had bonds in their possession belonging to three members of the Balzer family who were found slain on their farm at Castle Prairie, eight miles west of Sauk City, Aug. 9, 1922.

The men were arrested at the request of J. M. Shearer, Madison detective, and Henry J. Bohn, Sauk county district attorney, who charged that the men had bonds owned by William, Julius and Mary Balzer, in their possession. The brothers said they had rented the Balzer farm after the triple murder and found the bonds in a strong box in the granary.

The two Balzer brothers, William and Julius, were found dead in the farm garage, across the road from the farmhouse. They had been beaten to death, the blows crushing their heads. The sister, Mary, a spinster, was found dead in some weeds near a mail box 300 yards east of the farm house. Her head likewise had been crushed by blows.

Robbery apparently was the motive. Mattresses in the farm house were found torn up and the place had been ransacked. The Bills brothers were arrested Wednesday night after Delbert, at tempted to cash coupons of two $500 bonds at Beloit. They denied knowledge of the slayings and offered an alibi which District Attorney Bohn said indicated that they knew nothing that might lead to a solution of the Balzer mystery.

The story of finding the "hidden treasure" was told to officers by the brothers. For months after the slaying authorities and neighbors searched the farm in vain for money and other valuables believed to have been secreted by the Balzer family. Then quite by accident the Bills brothers found the strong box containing the "treasure."

While hunting rats in the granary last fall, just before threshing time, the brothers said, one of them pulled up a board under the granary stairway and found the rusty box that held the prize. They kept their find a secret, removing the bonds and leaving the rest of the collection in the box.

Judge Karel said he probably would announce his decision Friday morning.

MURDERER OF CHILD NOT TO BE RETRIED

District Attorney Says He's Through—Trial Cost County Over $10,000

BULLETIN

Littleton, Colo. — All charges against Dr. Harold E. Blazer, charged with murdering his daughter, Hazel, were dismissed Thursday.

Littleton, Colo. — (AP) — The legal status of murder "committed for love" still remains undetermined in Colorado criminal jurisprudence. Hoplessly deadlocked, the jury selected to try Dr. Harold Elmer Blazer on a charge of murdering his daughter, Hazel, the 34-year-old "child woman," was discharged by Judge Samuel Johnson at 12 o'clock Thursday.

"I am satisfied," prosecuting Attorney Joel E. Stone declared "It is unlikely that I shall bring action against Blazer again."

"We are satisfied," was the declaration of Lewis Mowry, chief of the defense counsel.

The jury had been out since 9:45 Wednesday night.

"I expected a verdict within half an hour or a hopelessly hung jury," Judge Johnson said.

Expense to the county for the trial has approximated $10,000, and District Attorney Stone said he did not believe the taxpayers would wish to bear the expense of another trial.

Dr. Blazer was taken into custody to be held until he furnished $5,000 bail while District Attorney Stone reached a decision on what further action may be taken.

SPIRIT CRANK LEFT ONLY $5 TO RELATIVES

Wealthy Wisconsin Lawyer Willed Bulk of Estate to Friend in Florida

Dodgeville — (AP) — Disinherited relatives of Archibald McArthur, wealthy spiritualist and formerly a prominent Wisconsin attorney, bank stockholder and publisher Thursday were awaiting word from Madison on an examination of the vital organ of Mr. McArthur which was being made by Doctors C. H. Bunting, University of Wisconsin pathologist, and Meade Burke his assistant.

The body was exhumed in the cemetery here on an order obtained by Luther McArthur, a nephew who seeks further information on the circumstances surrounding his death.

Archibald McArthur left the bulk of his estate to a Jacksonville, Fla. resident who drew his will. His estate may reach $200,000.

McArthur who was more than 55 years old when he died came to Dodgeville many years ago following his graduation from Lawrence college, Appleton. He began the practice of law in a humble way and as the years progressed became a prominent figure not only before the courts but as a stockholder in a local bank and publisher of a weekly newspaper.

He was known as one of the best dressed men in southern Wisconsin always wearing a silk hat and living well. As the years passed he adopted many peculiar habits and shortly before he left Dodgeville two years ago became unkempt, allowed his beard to grow and paid daily visits to the graveyard at dusk to commune with spirits.

Two years ago he bought an old automobile and sent to Florida, Jacksonville, relatives, six he fell in with a Florida resident who took him to his home and cared for him. There he died several months ago and in his will it was found he left the bulk of his property to his Florida friend. Relatives were cut off with $5 each and $15,000 was left to the son of Mrs. Lane Joss, Madison. McArthur never married. He has a brother in California, and a sister in England.

In the will he explained the $5 bequests thus:

"There is no reason they should have any of mine as they have plenty and took no care of me."

Thus far county officials have not been asked to aid in the investigation. Relatives alone pushing the inquiry.

Racine — (AP) — One dead and one injured is the toll following an unexpected explosion which at an early hour Thursday morning wrecked a lunch wagon on the north side, shattered store and residence windows in to bits within a radius of several blocks and shook residences a half mile distant.

Stanley Packmore, 22, is the man who died in a hospital as the result of the wounds which were caused by the splintering of the wagon. He was the cook in the establishment and was waiting on a customer, Robert Meyer, who was hurled into the street by the force of the explosion. He was slightly injured.

There is practically nothing of the structure remaining. Later it was determined by the police that the explosion had occurred on the exterior of the structure and not on the inside as it was at first believed. The officers express the opinion that it was caused by an infernal machine but as yet have discovered no motive for the act.

BLIMP WIDOW ON STAND

Testifies Air Probe Official Sought to Influence Testimony Before Board

New York — (AP) — Hisses and boos came from 200 wartime aviators at an Armistice day dinner Wednesday night when a telegram was read from Secretary of War Davis refusing permission to Col. William Mitchell to attend.

The demonstration was heard by many radio listeners who tuned in on WRNY at the Hotel Roosevelt where the dinner was held.

Aviators Post 744 American Legion with a membership representing every squadron that had active duty at the front in 1918 gave the dinner. The telegram was from Secretary Davis and read:

"In view of the fact that the physical presence of Col. Mitchell is necessary at the court-martial before which he is appearing, favorable consideration cannot be given to your request."

The telegram was an answer to two messages sent by Col. Mitchell to the board asking that the telegram be permitted to come. New York City to the board.

A telegram from Col. Mitchell saying that he could not be the honored guest was checked. The most telegraphed phrase at Col. Mitchell's disposal in his court-martial was in a message Representative F. H. Leonard, a former aviator said. "Billy Mitchell is not being judged by his peers. He is being judged by his dog robbers of the general staff."

CHARGES CORRUPTION

Washington, D. C. — (AP) — Called to substantiate Col. Mitchell's charge that improper attempts had been made to influence her testimony before the Shenandoah board of inquiry, Mrs. Zachary Lansdowne, widow of the dirigible's commander, testified in the Mitchell court-martial Thursday that Capt. Paul Foley of the naval board, had sent her a letter which was "an insult" to the memory of her husband.

Mrs. Lansdowne was nervous and plainly weak and weary from illness and the trying experiences of recent weeks. She answered in a tremulous voice the preliminary questions put to qualify her as a witness.

"Did you receive a communication from Captain Paul Foley trial judge advocate of the naval (Shenandoah) court relative to your testimony before the court?" asked Mr. Reid.

"I did," the widow replied.

"Have you that communication?"

"I tore it up."

WOULD WHITEWASH

Col. Sherman Moreland, the prosecutor, objected when Mr. Reid asked the witness what was in the communication. She destroyed. The defense attorneys said he asked the question because Col. Mitchell had charged that the navy would "whitewash the Shenandoah catastrophe" and he wanted to prove that charge.

The court after some discussion as to the admissibility of Mrs. Lansdowne's testimony, directed her to answer the question.

"The letter said," Mrs. Lansdowne continued, "that my husband regarded the Shenandoah as a man-of-war and had not cared to take it on flights of a political nature—being always ready."

COUNTY URGED TO ENLARGE RIVERVIEW HOSPITAL

MORE ROOM IS NEEDED, BOYD TELLS BOARD

Unable to Accommodate All Tubercular Patients Seeking Admittance

Consideration of plans for increasing the capacity of Riverview sanatorium was urged by Dr. C. D. Boyd of Kaukauna, who addressed members of the county board Thursday morning on the activities of the sanatorium during the past few years. His address followed the reading of the reports of the directors and trustees of the institution.

"We have found the facilities of the sanatorium are not large enough to accommodate all applicants for admittance," he said. "During the last few years the institution has been continually filled to capacity and there was always a number of persons on the waiting list. So great has been the demand for admittance that we have been forced to select our applicants of late, thus causing considerable misunderstanding to exist. The purpose of the institution is to treat families and the purpose of the sanatorium is to treat individuals. It is adding that our selections of late have been based upon the age of the applicant and the severity of the disease. If it was evident to us that tuberculosis had progressed so far that it could not be cured, his application was rejected for somebody else who could be cured. Statistics show that 250 persons have died from tuberculosis within the last 10 years in this county. The problem is becoming serious and can only be adequately handled if the capacity of the sanatorium is increased. I hope the board will give this matter serious consideration."

The Toughest Old Cough Can Now Be Stopped

Lingering coughs—the kind that hang on and hang on and rob a man of his sleep—the kind that makes him peevish and all worn out. Those are the breed of coughs that prove that common cough syrups are about as useful as a bottle of ginger pop. The quickest and surest way to get rid of a persistent cough is to take a teaspoonful of Broncholine Emulsion four times a day. It's made to stop the old-timers—the tough ones—and it does it without any loss of time. And remember, there is no chloroform—no sugar—no dope in this grand cough medicine. It's a prescription for stubborn coughs and that's the kind it speedily conquers. For ordinary coughs, one or two doses is usually enough. Union Pharmacy, Voigt's Drug Store. adv.

FOOTPRINT OF ANCIENT MONSTER FOUND IN COAL

Salt Lake City—(P)—Large pieces of coal in which are embedded the footprints of a prehistoric animal believed to be a tyrannosaurus, the crest of the carnivorous dinosaurs which roamed the earth millions of years ago, have been found in the further coal mine in Carbon-co. (ah). The find was made several thousand feet underground.

The tyrannosaurus is believed to have been 47 feet long and 18 to 20 feet high when erect, with a tail like a lizard.

JAPAN HONORS MOVIE STARS

Tokyo — (P) — That the Japanese are as enthusiastic about moving pictures and movie stars as are the fans in America was evidenced by a prize contest for the most popular Japanese cinema player. The contest was conducted by the Miyako Jimbun of Tokyo, one of the leading amusement newspapers of the capital and the winner, Miss Nobuko Satsuki, received 1,313,553 votes. Does Winter Fill You With Dread?

Better Get Rid of Your Rheumatic Pains and Twinges NOW

James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of useless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called ALLENRIU, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success.

Being he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed Volgt's Drug Store and druggists everywhere to dispense ALLENRIU with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment.

JAPAN NEWSPAPERS USE PIGEONS TO CARRY COPY

Tokyo—(P)—While there are 19 daily newspapers in Tokyo, and hundreds of others throughout the empire, the gathering of news in Japan is somewhat more difficult than it is in America and other countries. The reason is that the telephone and telegraph services are exceedingly primitive and almost worthless for the rapid transmission of news.

The tardy wire service, however, is overcome to some extent by the use of carrier pigeons. Every news agency and large newspaper has its own specially trained birds which daily are sent by train to the various correspondents. The pigeon, when released with the thinnest of "copy" sheets attached to them, make rapid time back to the editorial rooms.

SOCIAL, DINING CLUBS FOR GIRLS IN LONDON

London—(P)—The necessity, or liking, for clubs for women has extended to the city worker. Most of the big banks and insurance companies have their own catering arrangements and are able to feed their girl employees at a small cost. The firm employing only one or two girls is not so well placed and it is for these employees that a new club has been opened in the heart of the city.

The girl members will be able to eat there at a reasonable cost as well as use the club as a social center to prepare for sports or evening engagements without first having to rush home to the suburbs.

POLITICAL MEDDLING IN TAX MEASURES

Already politics is commencing to scheme for control of the new tax bill. Democrats and rebellious Republicans are looking for ways and means to discredit the Mellon plan and to change it in essential particulars, not with the slightest idea of improving the bill or of enacting tax legislation on its merits, but solely to gain some political point. For instance, there is a move to increase tax reduction by $350,000,000, in the face of the fact that the secretary of the treasury, whose expert knowledge on the subject alone is reliable, has stated that $300,000,000 is the limit to which the revenue can be cut with safety.

Again, the disregarding of Mr. Mellon's recommendation that exemptions be left as they are is a political move. It is political for the simple reason that it removes 1,000,000 taxpayers from the rolls, and presumably, therefore, makes for popularity with a similar number of voters.

We believe, and we think fair-minded, thoughtful persons will agree with us, that it should be universally applied, that it should be universally applied. Every person should have that direct interest in government that comes from having to pay for its support. Of course, in the matter of income taxation there is a limit below which it is not practical to go in the assessment of the tax, because of the bookkeeping it would involve and the prohibitive cost of collecting a vast number of trivial amounts. We do not think that limit can be fairly placed at the figures proposed by the committee, that is a maximum of $1000.

In other words, incomes of less than $1000 should be required to pay a small tax. This is what the treasury department recommends and the president approves, but the politicians as usual seem determined to ignore their wishes. Of course, there are other provisions of the new tax law which are more important, but we cite these incidents to illustrate the fact that seldom if ever is legislation of this character disposed of by congress without being inspired by politics.

SUCKERS STUNG AGAIN

The bottom has fallen out of the stock market. Everybody knew it would fall out, but those who were in the market and playing with fire hoped against hope they would get out with a profit before the crash came. Of course many thousands of them did not, and now they are reaping the harvest.

The stock market went to pieces for exactly the same reason that it soared up to dizzy heights—for no reason whatever. It was inflation pure and simple, with nothing back of it to sustain it, yet the public goes on biting at this old game with the same avidity that a fish takes the lure.

Because the Federal Reserve bank of Boston prudently and wisely raised the discount rate, news dispatches assure speculators that their stocks are loaded, with the wildest day of selling the stock exchange has ever known. Prices slumped from three to thirty points. If there had been any substance back of the market and stocks were actually worth anything near what they were selling for, there would have been nothing to fear.

It is a silly thing for people to be taken in by this skin game year after year and month after month, for the "rank outsider" has no more chance with the professional stock gambler, who is in control of the market practically all of the time, than an automobile has in a collision with an express train.

The same thing is going on in Florida in another way, and there will be the same ending. The pyramiding of values down there has already gone beyond the bounds of all reason, and it is only a question of time until the bubble bursts and thousands of poor suckers are left to hold the bag.

TOO MUCH MITCHELL

Some of the newspapers, which have a bone to pick with the government or which are carried away by first impressions, are indulging in what seems to us maudlin hero worship of General Mitchell, now on trial by court martial for insubordination. The more sweeping and vicious his charges, the more they applaud him. Notwithstanding he has been allowed more than the usual privileges extended to defendants in courts martial, he is held up to the country as an object of persecution and perfection. All of his declarations about the incapacity and criminal negligences of the war department with respect to aviation are accepted as 100 per cent truth. Charges of treasonable conduct on the part of superiors are swallowed with delight.

These newspapers and General Mitchell's official and public sympathizers should keep their shirts on. Undoubtedly there have been mistakes and failures, possibly even neglect and stupidity in the administration of the air forces, but it is not easy to believe that it is permeated with fraud and deceit and criminal purposes to the extent advertised by General Mitchell. There has been too much Mitchell and too little of sober and restrained judgment on his charges.

If half of what General Mitchell says is true, he is a more important figure in our military life than the whole of the aviation bureau and the war department back of it. We should not forget that on the other side of this question is the president and his cabinet, and that they have better opportunities for knowing the truth "behind the scenes" than the star figure in this drama and his supporters. General Mitchell and his friends are to be given full opportunity to discuss their grievances. The public should keep an open mind and reserve judgment until all of the facts are established and conflicting evidence carefully weighed.

WAR'S AFTERMATH

Many strange acts of injustice are found in the aftermath of war.

Take the case of Capt. Nathan Williams, who has undergone 27 operations in government hospitals for injuries he received during the war.

He enlisted, was made an emergency officer, led an attack against a German stronghold, and was painfully and seriously wounded by a bayonet.

Yet he is placed on the retired list of the army without pay, because he was an emergency officer. It is extremely doubtful if Williams ever will be able to do a man's work again.

But he is denied the three-quarters pay of a retired officer, while other men who never left a swivel chair in Washington during the war receive it. Naturally many such injustices will grow out of a war. The government really can't be blamed for them, but it can be blamed for not doing everything in its power to correct such things.

Williams made a great sacrifice, as did his own son, who slipped into the navy when only 13 years old and was seriously wounded on the torpedoed ship, the Jacob Jones.

This government can't do too much for men of that type. But it is nothing short of criminal when the government fails to give such heroes what they deserve.

TODAY'S POEM

By HAL COCHRAN

PAGE DAD
I'm the man of the house, am I, and I hope I'm a regular guy. When work's to be done, I just call it on, and I plug without batting an eye. I carry out the furnace each day, and I carry the coal, and I shovel the coke, and it's far from a piece of cake, I'm sure, and it seems just like play. I sing to the kids each night, and I tell 'em, and then out their light. They want me to play at the end of each day and they run my pep way out of sight. At noon I am up about six, and a wonderful breakfast I fix. I cook them a treat so the family can eat. Oh, it's one of my every day tricks. I never am worried by strife, and I'm having the time of my life. It is true, what I say, am I really this way. I can prove that I'm not, by my wife. (Copyright, 1925, NEA Service, Inc.)

WHEN THE FROST IS ON THE WINDOW

The old timers, perusing the almanacs, learned to associate dampness with the rheumatiz and other complaints, and to this day a lot of folks—including not a few nice easy going old fogey doctors as folks—still imagine there is some intimate or indefinable relation between exposure to wet or dampness and certain vague disease conditions. The old fogey vague disease conditions, because the old fogies wisely refrain from defining precisely what disease conditions they imagine are produced by such exposure.

Probably that same superstition is responsible for the common belief that the formation of frost on the window panes somehow indicates unhygienic conditions, bad air, dampness or other fault in the atmosphere of the house. The fact is that the frosting on the windows in cold weather is rather an indication that the air of the house is properly conditioned, that it still holds a fair proportion of moisture, that it has a more healthful humidity than the air usually has when it has been artificially heated.

A question which arises frequently is whether the "steam" or extraordinary amount of water vapor in the house on wash day is in any way injurious to health. The answer is that so far as the condition of the household atmosphere is concerned, wash day is the most healthful day in the week for everybody from baby to grandpa. The laundress herself may have to put up with some discomfort on wash day, but neither cold nor wet can really injure her health—unless science is wrong and the old quack doctors' almanacs were right about this matter.

In my judgment, the choice of heating methods, solely from the hygienic viewpoint, falls about in this order:

1. The open fireplace burning wood, coal or gas.
 2. The ordinary heating stove, burning wood, coal, oil or gas, of course having proper chimney connection.
 3. The warm air furnace—recirculating the air.
 4. The hot air furnace—having cold air intake from outdoors.
 5. Radiators heated by hot water or steam.
- The open fireplace of course heats only the room where it is built. But such heat, radiant heat, is more like the heat of the sun, which warms objects, including our bodies, rather than the air of the room; the air is warmed only by indirect radiation of the heat by the fireplace lining and fixtures and by the objects or the bodies of individuals in the room. Our ancestors found a fireplace comfortable although the air temperature of the room was perhaps only 55 degrees F. An open fireplace is by no means the extravagant method of heating commonly supposed, even though a large proportion of the heat goes up the chimney. As a means of supplementary means of heating a room the open fireplace is good hygienic economy. It improves the ventilation. It does not dry out the air as does a stove or radiator.

Humidity is most readily regulated with the warm air furnace, which recirculates a large volume of moderately heated air.

The ordinary hot air furnace, with outside intake, circulates a smaller volume of more highly heated air, which is humidified with more difficulty. Either warm air or hot air system is preferable to radiator heating for the reason that warm or hot air heating is most efficient when a fair degree of ventilation is provided—indeed, it is ventilation the radiator heats best when there is little ventilation.

LOOKING BACKWARD

MEMBERS OF THE COUNTY BOARD were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Downer, superintendent of the asylum at a dinner at the institution today. Prize-winners at the skating tournament at Harmonie hall last night were Peter Rademacher, Peter Kingsbury, Louis Peterson, Joseph Krautkraemer, Richard Jungman, John A. Groh and Henry Gerry.

Oscar Thilmany of the Thilmany Pulp and Paper Co., was elected director of the Bank of Kaukauna, to succeed Norman H. Brokaw, deceased. Miss Maude DeJoy and Hubert Bates were married last evening at the bride's home.

John S. Van Norwick left that morning for Barrington, Ill., upon receipt of a telegram stating that the Appleton Manufacturing Co. plant at that city had burned to the ground the previous night. The people were about to make an effort to regain this industry for Appleton.

Horoscopes are easy. Any amateur astrologer could go to Judge Berg's court and tell you which fellows are under the influence of the moon.

"Huh!" grunted Frank, "same place where they keep easy money."

Wednesday night was mighty hard on patriotic radio fans, the boss sighed. Every Armistice day program had the Star Spangled Banner in it, and so the boss came to work this morning feeling quite lame in the knees. He had to get up so often, those broadcasters wouldn't let him finish his supper. He twirled the dial around going through the whole gamut of radio stations. Every one was either starting or finishing the national anthem. The boss heard it so often he can sing it backwards now.

FOR GARBAGE REMOVAL

Editor Post-Crescent: The determination of the ladies of the city who are urgently bringing up the problem of garbage disposal is to be admired. We all want our city to be one that we may be proud of. Appleton includes rental districts, backyards belonging to the poorer taxpayers, as well as downtown districts and residential districts of the wealthy. Would the city officials investigate the need of a system of garbage disposal, not among the class of people who have the means of caring for their own garbage, but where it cannot be promptly removed, this big question could quickly be decided upon so as to make our city a cleaner, healthier and more beautiful Appleton. STATE FOURTH IN GOOD ROADS

Nation Now Has 111,400 Miles of Improved Highways Federal Survey Shows

Twenty-three thousand miles of highways were built to grade or surfaced on the state systems in 1924, according to information collected by the bureau of public roads of the United States department of agriculture from the various state highway departments. More than 17,000 miles were surfaced. The surfaced mileage constructed by type was as follows:

Sand clay	1,385
Gravel	7,560
Waterbound macadam	467
Surface-treated macadam	1,009
Bituminous macadam	997
Sheet asphalt	129
Bituminous concrete	564
Cement concrete	4,520
Brick and other block pavements	164

The bureau estimates that at the end of 1924 there were surfaced roads in the state systems totaling 111,400 miles. Adding the mileage surfaced in 1924, after making allowance for the fact that a portion of the new work consisted of the resurfacing of old roads, it is indicated that approximately half of the 251,610 miles embraced in the state systems were surfaced at the beginning of the present year. These figures represent work done under state supervision, including federal-aid work, but do not include county or local work off the main State systems. Progress in 1925 should be at least as great as in 1924 according to the best information available.

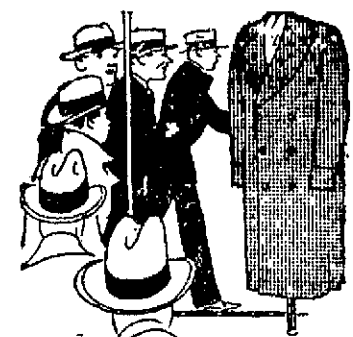

Wisconsin is listed as having 7,523 miles on its state system with 5,749 miles improved and 567 miles surfaced last year. It stands fourth in the United States in the amount of good roads and has practically the highest percentage of any state.

Overcoats that men buy on sight----
$39.50

Never such examples of snap judgment as shown this week near our Overcoat cabinets. Even men who had no more idea of buying a new coat than they had of flying try on a coat "just for the fun of it"—and then keep it on "just for the style of it."

Salesmanship totally unnecessary! You simply buy and sell yourself an Overcoat at Schmidt's and then pat yourself on the back for owning the handsomest coat in your repertoire of birthdays

TWO FLOORS OF GOOD THINGS TO WEAR

HONEYMOON IS TIME OF SHOCKS

Third Day of Wedding Trip Usually Is Crucial One, Says Writer

Arthur H. Woolf, in The London Daily Mail.
A celebrated woman novelist tells us, in her latest book, that "the third day is usually the crucial one of a honeymoon."

It is a fascinating theory. A man novelist once expounded similar views in regard to the eighth year of marriage, but he gave us facts and figures and statistics, culled from divorce court records, in support of his contention.

Why should the third day (more than any other) be the crucial one of a honeymoon—unless it be by some analogy to certain fever, in which the paroxysms recur on the third day? Yet we must not lightly reject the new theory.

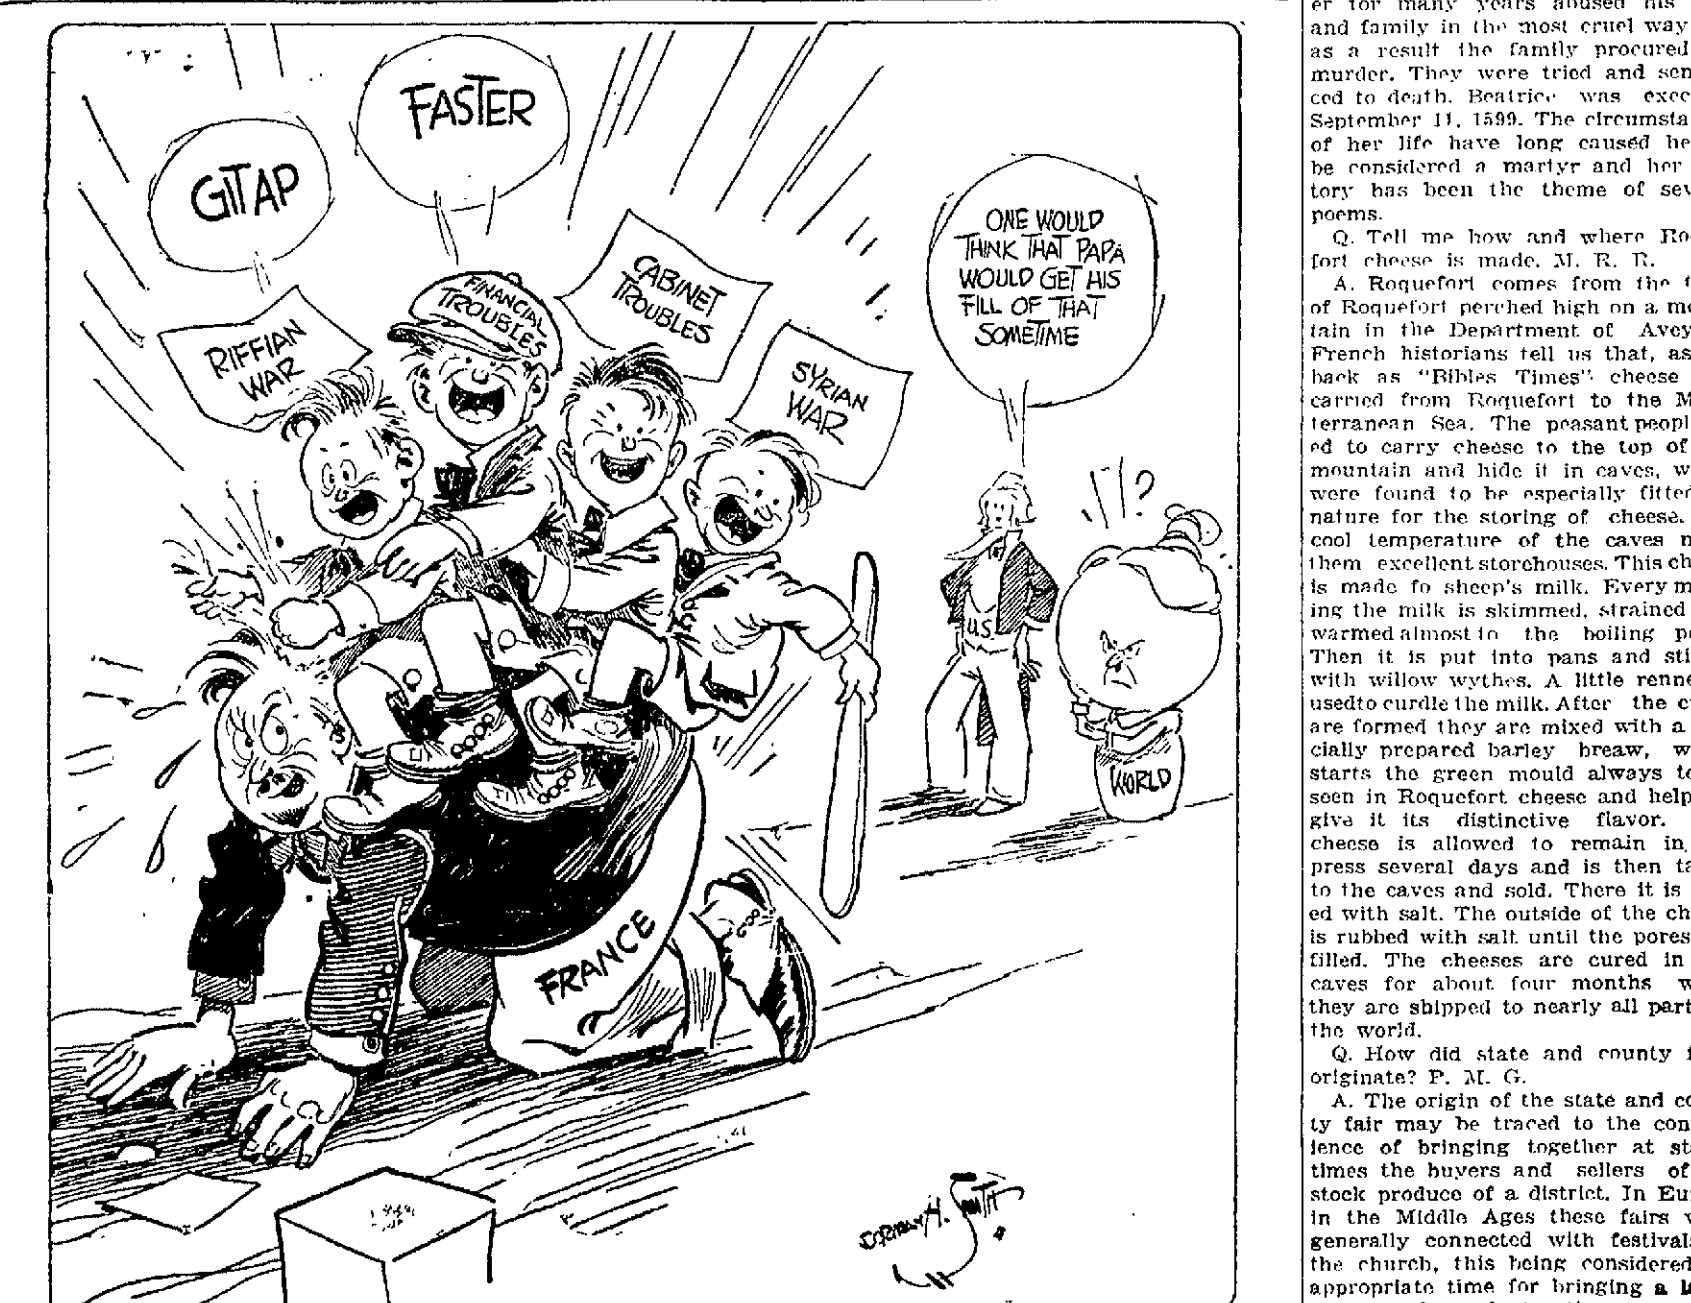

There may be something in it and what to boot it would be to honeymooners to know that on a particular day they must go warily and look out for "squalls!"

For my own part I should say that each day of a honeymoon is just as crucial as another. It is a time of surprise, of revelation, of "mutual discovery" (in use a legal phrase), of sudden flashes lightning up dark places.

How often is it a time of disillusionment and disappointment, when people for the first time throw off the mask and behave "naturally" and fairly palaces come tumbling down about our heads. And above all, if people are wise, it is a time of adaptation, of adjustment, of replacing values.

In one of Maxwell's novels a girl at the beginning of her honeymoon is shocked and horrified at her husband knocking an argumentative porter down. It showed a new and brutal side to his character. And that is typical of the "honeymoon shocks" so many get.

GAMEL SPEAKER AT BANQUET OF FATHERS, SONS

201 DEATHS IN 5 YEARS BLAMED TO WHITE PLAGUE

Tells Clintonville Dads to Guide Sons - Reminds Boys to Mind Parents

Special to Post-Crescent
Clintonville—Dr. Frank Gamel, boy-scout leader, gave a splendid address at a father and son banquet Tuesday night in the high school gymnasium. The whole week's lecture course of Dr. Gamel as well as this dinner is being sponsored by the Rotary and Lions clubs. Hundreds of fathers and sons were present.

The Gamel's subject was "The Father's Role." He commenced by pointing out some of the things the fathers owe to their sons. "What does a father owe his son?" he asked. "I am convinced, after holding interviews with thousands of boys and hundreds of fathers, that the father of today is overlooking some of the most important things that he owes to his boy. God will hold the father directly responsible for whatever happens to his son in after life, especially when he is passing from boyhood to manhood. At this period the father should be a real man and the closest of comrades to his son and help him to develop into a real man. You fathers must guide your sons through the most dangerous period of life, when they have thousands of temptations to lead them astray. This takes more real ability than to boss an army of men. You can't shift the responsibility onto someone else, the church, the school or the boy's mother. A father who does this is false to his son, is robbing him of that helping hand he needs so much during the tender years of his life.

"The testing day will surely come for that boy and the decision of that day will be a day of judgment for the father. There should be no unbridled rages, restrictions or prohibitions, and a bond of the closest sympathetic companionship should exist between father and son. One of the most outstanding things in this country is that so many fathers are busy doing things for their boys, that they simply haven't any time to do things with them."

The boy in turn owes a lot to the father, Dr. Gamel declared. He must learn to mind. This is no sign of weakness; it is a sign of strength. Jesus was minding even to the death on the cross. The boys must keep good associates and be ever on the alert to uphold the good reputation of themselves and their fathers and keep their names spotless.

On Wednesday and Thursday Dr. Gamel is delivering a lecture on "Life's Most Sacred Function" to men and boys over 14 only, and to women and girls over 14 only, on the respective

It is probable that more than 201 deaths occurred from tuberculosis, according to Miss Klein. A number of persons who died may have become so weakened by the disease that they became infected with another, such as pneumonia, dying from the latter cause. It was tuberculosis, however, which was really responsible for their deaths, she pointed out.

Deaths from tuberculosis in each township of Outagamie-co from 1920 to 1924 inclusive numbered as follows:

Peer Creek, 2; Maine, 0; Cicero, 3; Seymour, 8; Indian reservation, 13; Osborn, 1; Black Creek, 6; Bovina, 7; Liberty, 7; Maple Creek, 1; Hortonville, 6; Dale, 6; Greenville, 3; Ellington, 5; Center, 2; Freedom, 2; Buchanan, 15; Vandevosch, 11; Kaukauna, 7; Grand Chute, 94. Total, 201.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use for only 75 cents. This is the outtime recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. In darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, to one can tell, because it does it so attractively, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

U. S. MAPS MANY EARTH FAULTS AMONG ROCKIES

Believe Defects Were Cause of Disastrous Earthquake at Santa Barbara

Denver, Colo. (AP)—Numerous dead faults created ages ago by earth movements, probably when the Rocky mountains were being upraised and which might cause earthquakes at some future time have been located and charted by government geologists and others between Denver and Longmont and Boulder, Colo. and in the vicinity of Golden, Colo.

United States Geological survey publications showing the geology of the Denver basin delineate such faults. Many geologists believe such faults in California have been the cause of the disastrous Santa Barbara quake.

C. T. Lupton, a consulting geologist of Denver, says there is a well defined zone of dead faults at least a quarter of a mile wide and ten to fifteen miles long between Denver and Longmont.

This zone, containing a series of faults, crosses North Boulder creek about one mile east of the old post-office of White Rock in Boulder, Colo. or four miles east of the town of Erie. It runs southeasterly to a point halfway between Louisville and Mt. Shale.

Outcroppings of erosion rock and formations revealed by some of the northern Colorado coal mines have enabled geologists and students of the subject to locate and chart the faults, declares Mr. Lupton. There has been discovered no evidence of movement in these faults for centuries, it is stated.

Two of three dead faults have been located south of North Boulder mountain near Golden, also but evidently these have been inactive for ages. Top formations on one side of the fault north of Denver have been forced to be from 500 to 1,000 feet deeper than on the other side due to the slipping of fault in the earth's surface.

Certain evidence of foldings in the earth's surface have been discovered in southeastern Colorado and near Laswell just west of Lordsburg, New Mexico. There have been reports of very slight earth tremors within recent years, according to Mr. Lupton.

It is possible, geologists believe, that the folding in south eastern Colorado in the vicinity of the Sierra Grande arch, which runs from its highest point about 40 miles east of

TRISH CHECK TUBERCULOSIS
Dublin. (AP)—Tuberculosis in the free state is gradually lessening. Statistics show in 1919 one in about every 70 of the population was affected by some form of the disease while in 1923 the proportion had diminished to about one in every 90. The decrease in deaths from all forms of tuberculosis in five years was 1,371. In 1923 the tuberculosis death rate was 1.11 per 1,000.

Raton N. Mex. northwesterly into Colorado may be gradually through the centuries pushing up a new range of mountains.

If the readjustment of the earth's crust were perfect when the faults became inactive and dead ages ago and if there have been no substantial readjustments of weight on the earth's surface since then the likelihood is, geologists say, that these faults will never cause earthquake shocks again for centuries or ages.

TOKYO'S POOR CHILDREN LACK REAL NUTRITION

Effects of Earthquake and Fire in 1923 Still Felt in Slum Districts

Tokyo. (AP)—The effects of the great earthquake and fire of 1923 are still being felt by the children of Tokyo. Investigators of the Child Welfare section of the Tokyo municipality report that more than 60 per cent of the children under seven years of age in the slum quarters have been found to be unhealthy either because of nutritional deficiency or diseases of various kinds. There is every indication, says the report, that the situation will become worse unless immediate steps be taken to care for those housed in the temporary huts in the poor sections of the city.

The most immediate cause of the unhealthy condition of the children, said James O. O'Leary, head of the Child Welfare Section, is the fact that they have not been fed so well as they were following the great earthquake. This was especially the case during the period when the city was beginning to be rebuilt. Just before that the children in the slum districts had been fairly well fed with supplies sent to them by relief organizations through the world. Later, however, many poor families were thrown on their own resources. In addition the present unemployment situation which has led to an almost total lack of work for wives of Tokyoers has still further depleted the incomes of the poorer families.

Another cause for the poor health of the children is that they have been forced to play in the ruins of Honjo and Fukusawa and much of what seems sand and solid ground is in reality no more, but the ashes of the burned cities. These districts had been destroyed by fire and the wind raised a cloud for the children to breathe.

RUSSIAN WOLVES CAUSE BIG LOSS TO LIVESTOCK

Moscow. (AP)—A destruction of livestock by wolves during the last year totaled a loss of 4,000,000 gold rubles. During that time statistics show that 5,000 horses, 10,000 cattle and 25,000 other animals were devoured by the wolves.

BY-PRODUCT OF PULP USED TO MAKE STREETS

Stockholm. (AP)—Through the use of an industrially product which has hitherto been wasted, Stockholm is henceforth to be made a dust free city.

After conclusive tests the authorities have discovered that by sprinkling streets or pavements that are either macadamized or unpaved with the lye in which pulpwood has been dissolved they become coated with a resilient substance which holds the dust down even in heavy traffic. At first the streets so treated are a bit sticky but is soon as the liquid has evaporated the residue forms a brown coating that in many respects exceeds crude oil or any other like substance. The slight odor also disappears very quickly. In the past the pulp mills have been in the habit of pouring this chemical liquid liquor away.

In the slum district of Stockholm a piece of roadway has been treated with the new liquid every two weeks and now the surface is smooth and hard as though coated with some kind of asphalt.

Rivers and Harbors Committee Will Hear Badgers' Plea Next Month

A committee representing the Association for Relief of High Water will be granted a hearing on flood relief by the rivers and harbors of the department of war at Washington, D. C. on Dec. 15 and 16, it was indicated in a letter recently received by Alan H. Tripp, president of the association, from Maj. G. R. Vagstad of Washington, resident member of the board.

Major Young said in the letter: "I think you may be assured that the board will be able to arrange a hearing for you between Dec. 15 and Dec. 20, and we shall endeavor to make your wish to have it on Dec. 15 or 16. I shall communicate with you again in about three weeks or less with view to fixing the date and, at the same time, giving you two or three weeks' notice."

Mr. Tripp has also been advised of the privileges of a personal interview to be granted to him and a committee by General Taylor, chief of engineers of the entire United States, an opportunity he has sought for about five years.

Cruelty Most Frequent Allegation In Suits For Divorce In Courts Here

The number of divorces granted in the 58 divorces in that year ex-Ottumawia has more than doubled since the number in the previous years. The report for 1922-1923 to a report for the year beginning Oct. 1, 1924, and ended Sept. 30, 1925, 1921 it was 33 and 30 respectively, which was sent to the Wisconsin Department of Vital Statistics at Madison by Harry A. Shannon, clerk of the court.

Sixty-six divorces were granted in municipal court during that year. The number of separations has steadily increased from year to year, except in the year 1922-23, when a decrease of divorces was shown. Last year's report showed that 18 divorces or eight less than were obtained during year just ended. The most alarming increase was recorded in the 1923-1924 report. One unusual circumstance in the di-voice annals for last year was that in the plaintiff was the woman. Another three consecutive cases, the husband was the plaintiff. In the 66 actions, 40 were the plaintiffs in 15. The principal ground for divorce set up by the male plaintiffs was desertion. 12 and 28 years, and still another for 26 months before severing the bonds of matrimony. The greatest number of divorces were obtained by couples who had been married six or seven years, and quite a number had been married only one or two years.

Eleven of the 66 couples divorced last year were married at Menominee, Mich. The Menominee marriages were all of comparatively short duration. Of the 66 divorces granted in the county, 42 were obtained by couples who claimed Appleton as their home either at the time of the divorce or at the time of their marriage.

TURTLE GARDEN PET OF BRITISH

Ancient Creature Threatens Popularity of Canary and Cat in Households

London — (P) — The turtle as a household pet here is threatening the canary, the cat and the poodle. Nearly every household in London has a turtle or two in its back yard, or "garden," as it is called in England.

Turtles have been sold by hawkers in the markets and in many shops which formerly confined themselves to goldfish, birds and dogs. The price has been from six pence up to three and four shillings, according to size. It has been estimated by dealers that within the last few weeks there have been approximately 60,000 turtles brought to England from Mediterranean ports, while London has received numerous other supplies from the continent.

Most purchasers in the city and suburbs have turtles in their alleys, the theory being that they consume the snails and other pests which do harm to tender, growing plants. Turtle fanciers contend that turtles are most grateful creatures for any kind of messes, and that they are very faithful pets so long as a person is kind to them. After being released in a garden and given a few draughts of sweetened water at first, the turtle makes himself perfectly at home among the vegetables and flowers, and will seldom stray beyond his own confines even though there is no fence.

SCIENTISTS FIND PART OF PREHISTORIC SKULL

Jerusalem — (P) — What appears to be a very substantial missing link was discovered recently near Tiberias when the front part of a primitive human skull was unearthed in a cave among well defined Mustertian flint deposits.

The new skull is characterized by prodigious development of the supra-orbital prominences and depressed forehead as in a chimpanzee, and conforms closely to the Neanderthal European type not previously found on the Continent of Asia.

It was the excavation by the British School of Archaeology of Jerusalem in a cave at Tiberias near Tiberias that was rewarded with this remarkable discovery. Professor Garstang, director of the school, witnessed the discovery, which was made by Mr. Turville-Petre, formerly of Oxford and now a student of the school here.

Home-made Supply of Fine Cough Syrup

Better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about $2. Easily prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 24 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of the cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membrane so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break severe coughs. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "24 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. PASS THE PIE, PLEASE; EXPERT CALLS IT FOOD

Dietitian Says People Make
Mistake by Saving Pastry
Until End of Dinner

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.
Washington, D. C.—Are pies real food? This important question has been raised in the middle west and may become one of the features of the next campaign along with evolution, fundamentalism, whether straw hats should be worn a second season and a few other burning issues, unless meanwhile litigation is started and the supreme court hands down a final and conclusive decision.

Hardy New Englanders who for generations have been reared on a dietary regime that includes pie for breakfast unhesitatingly affirm that pie is not only a real food but an essential one.

On the other hand chronic dyspeptics the country over to whom the mere word pie means a pun in the equatorial region, return a unanimous negative to the question. Some of the extremists are even said to be considering a movement for a constitutional amendment prohibiting pie to kether with all other pasties and everything else that disgraces with them.

INJURED

Miss Mauchline Cousins, daughter of Senator James Cousins of Michigan, was severely injured when her house fell and rolled on her at a country club near Detroit. She is recuperating at her home.

tempting appetite. Sometimes he cause of its appeal to their taste sometimes because they are convinced that it is good for them and even sometimes because it has been cooked by someone whose feeling they do not wish to hurt by refusing the only sound reason for eating a food is its nutritive value.

Pies and soups are cited as an important part of the diet of those who are liable to have a high food value but in time they are eaten at the end of a hearty dinner when the appetite has already been appeased and no more food is needed. This is a mistake according to Dr. Shaw, a dietitian, that pie is real food and that the end of the meal is not the end of the menu but rather the beginning.

The requirements of the body are met only by eating a variety of food because a very few single articles of food are so balanced and complete in themselves that they all can supply all the necessary food essentials.

Proteins are required to build new tissues and repair the old broken down ones. carbohydrates to furnish the furnace heat and energy. mineral salts for the bones and teeth, phosphorus for the nerve tissues, iron for the red corpuscles, and so on. Then too we must have the vitamins which are comparatively new discoveries but which have been found to be so necessary for our growth and well being.

Pies vary greatly in their food value depending upon their nature but they are all good heat and energy foods on account of the starch and fat in the crust and the sugar in the filling.

NAILS MOST DANGEROUS INDUSTRIAL IMPLEMENT

From Popular Mechanics.
The nails in the most dangerous implement in industry is indicated by figures gathered in New York. In one year compensation was made for 12,500 clients due to nails and using New York city's average of 30 nails per day from this cause there are nearly 45,000 such injuries yearly in the state.

From a list of 150 reports 37 such accidents were closed as infections with loss of time and 45 while not involving poisoning, compelled the sufferer to stop work.

Thousands of accidents, it is believed are never reported. According to officials the nail hazard is becoming serious and its importance is increased by the fact that almost every part of the human body is liable to attack.

This is illustrated by reports such as "stepped on nail in floor," "nail in guardrail tore his scalp," "nail in bench tore leg," "fell down and nail punctured stomach."

A nail elimination week has been recommended by the labor department during which all loose nails and those protruding where they are likely to endanger persons would be removed.

NEW MEXICO IS EGYPT OF U. S.

More Mystery and Enchantment Per Foot in This State Than Any Other

New Mexico according to the Mentor is indeed the Egypt of America. The more mystery, enchantment, and unusualness to the square foot of New Mexico soil than anywhere else Egypt has been in the limelight of archeology for the last two or three years but here in our own country in New Mexico there is quite as much romance and mystery.

It may seem strange to tell you that there are still plenty of frontiers in America. There are a great many places in our own southwest which have not been visited by more than a dozen or so parties of white people.

At one schoolhouse in New Mexico the boys every Saturday go out and pick up archeological specimens more than one thousand years old which they bring to school to be put in a museum. Only a short time ago the magnificent Gadsden cave in south eastern New Mexico was discovered and explored—the existence of which up to that time had been known to only a few people.

So here we draw back the curtain of our own civilization for one thousand or two thousand years. Much of the mystery, the romance, and the picture-queerness of New Mexico have centered around the Pueblo Indians plus the ruins of a prehistoric people stretching across the southwest. Many travelers who have seen one or more of these ruins have often speculated as to what strange prehistoric races once inhabited our South west. But now comes modern day science and establishes the fact that the Pueblos of the present day and the prehistoric races are closely related. Briefly it is now believed that the founders of the great communal dwellings of a thousand or two thousand years ago were simply the ancestors of the present day tribes that remain. There are more than six hundred abandoned villages stretching from Colorado through New Mexico and into Utah, Arizona, and Mexico. In northwestern New Mexico, not far from the junction of the four States, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, and Utah—is the Chaco canyon. It is in this section of the State the American Museum of Natural History and other organizations have been making explorations for several years. Among the Colorado border is the Mesa Verde National park with its famous cliff dwellings across the Arizona border is the Canyon de Chelly, and some distance away in Utah are the far famed natural bridges.

There is an obelisk in Egypt that has never been raised. It weighs 1168 tons.

JELKE GOOD LUCK Margarine is a delicate blend of three choice fats—full-cream milk, wholesome beef fat, nourishing pork fat. It has all the rugged food values and vitamins inherent in these wholesome ingredients.

GOOD LUCK imparts energy in most usable form, easily digestible, extremely nourishing, and, best of all, delicious. The flavor is derived from fresh milk—a flavor that children love.

Large families can use GOOD LUCK to advantage in rearing vigorous, healthy children. Serve as a spread for bread, or use as a shortening in baking. GOOD LUCK is pure, wholesome, tasteful—and an ideal energy food for children. Ask your dealer.

DRINK PARLORS IN WAUPACA-CO ARE PADLOCKED

Two Places Accused More
Than Once Can't Open
Doors for One Year

Waupaca—Word has been received in this city to the effect that Judge F. A. Geiger of Milwaukee, has ordered that the soft drink parlors of Henrietta Henjum of Weyauwega, and R. D. Rickaby of West Bloomfield, be locked for a period of one year. Both these persons have been involved in liquor cases in the local courts on more than one occasion.

In a bulletin released here Wednesday by the United States department of agriculture and the Wisconsin department of markets, cooperating with W. H. Mosier in charge, the latest estimate of the production of white potatoes is given for the entire United States and the more important winter producing states of the north. Figuratively, the estimate has not changed from that given out a month ago, as an increase of only 3,000,000 bushels is reported, making the figure now at 346,503,000 bushels against 344,227,000 a month ago and 454,784,000 a year ago. Prices reported in this latest issue were slightly easier, mostly at $2.75 a hundred pounds.

During the session of the county board Wednesday morning, many petitions were presented for road improvement, the most coming from the cities of New London and Clintonville. No action has been taken, as a rule of the board prohibits action on any resolution on the day of its introduction where an appropriation of funds is necessary. The latter part of the week will probably be very active for the board.

In justice court before Justice Peter Holst, Elmer Bubaby and Fred Durrant of this city pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk and disorderly. Both were fined $5 and costs.

Arthur Hewitt, traffic officer, reported a lively chase on his motorcycle in pursuit of a speeder Tuesday evening when he caused the arrest of Harry C. Cristy, a New London merchant. According to Mr. Hewitt the chase began on School-st while Mr. Cristy was starting for home. The automobile sped onto Royalton-st then out of the city limits over state highway No. 54, across Waupaca river as far as the Stinchfield farm. After several attempts to halt the driver, the officer fired a revolver into the air. Mr. Cristy said afterward that he didn't hear it. However, a halt came to the pursuit when Hewitt, with a second shot, pierced a tire a close range. The officer said his authority to make an arrest out of the city was questioned, but he assured the driver that by being a deputy sheriff he could also bring charges against him in the country. Mr. Cristy agreed to appear in court at once and went before Justice Holst before the officer reached the court. A fine of $10 with costs amounting to $3.50 was levied. Mr. Cristy is a merchant at New London and a son of J. E. Cristy of this city. Mrs. Cristy accompanied her husband during the lively ride, which the officer said was at times at the rate of 50 miles an hour.

STAGE And SCREEN

DON Q. SON OF ZORRO

"Don Q. Son of Zorro," is the full title of Douglas Fairbanks new and latest picture showing at the Elite today and tomorrow. Various reports have been broadcast that "Don Q. Son of Zorro," was the story of that chivalrous Spanish gentleman, Don Quixote. Nothing could be further removed from the truth, however.

The story itself is a colorful adventure romance set in a Spanish locale. It was adapted by Jack Cunningham from the novel, "Don Q's Love Story," by K. and Hesketh Prichard. "What we really do in the new story," says Fairbanks, "is to carry on the adventures of Zorro. We take him from the picturesque California of the middle nineteenth century to the even more picturesque Spain of the same period. There will be all the Latin fire and dash in the picture which characterized its predecessor and which can best be described as a romantic-melodrama.

"For 'Don Q. Son of Zorro,' is most certainly a melodrama and melodrama, after all, is what the public craves. They are fed up on sex and psychological pictures, so-called, which require the strictest attention to understand. With pictures of this type, it becomes a study to get their gist.

In this new offering, Fairbanks is seen in dual role. In this instance, however, he plays Zorro, the father, and Don Q, the son. The dashing Zorro, grown older but still a sword-slashing demon, is replaced by his adventurous, romantic son who inherits all the father's courage, wit and charm.

Don Q. Son of Zorro, is sent by his father from California to Spain to complete his education and becomes, through a combination of circumstances, a national hero. Then, by virtue of another combination of circumstances, he is accused of murder.

"The Coming of Amos," the Cecil B. DeMille supervised production which opens for a two day run at the Fischer's Appleton Theatre on Thursday and Friday offers the three essential elements of a successful picture—story, cast and star.

The story, from the novel by William J. Locke's best-seller, was adapted to the screen by James Creelman and Garrett Fort, scenarioists to reputation and proven ability. This Producer's Distributing Corporation release introduces Rod La Roque to stardom as the result of the demand created by his many successful appearances. Under the direction of Paul Sloane, he is supported by such featured film players as Jetta Goudal, Noah Berry, Trivie Fikanza, Arthur Hoyt and Richard Carle.

The story skips from Australia to France, England and Sicily, mingling comedy and melodrama in excellent proportions. La Roque is first seen as a wealthy, uncouth sheep rancher who has never ventured beyond the boundaries of the outside world. He goes to France to see his worldly sophisticated uncle, and falls desperately in love with a beautiful Russian princess portrayed by Jetta Goudal. Noah Berry is introduced into the tale, adding coarseness, excitement and romance to the colorful plot, in which letters, a stolen necklace, gambling debts, fights and love play an important part.

Also a vaudeville act, comedy news and fables.

"FEARLESS LOVER" IS POLICE STORY

"The Fearless Lover" at the New Bijou Theatre Friday and Saturday is a Perfecton Picture featuring William Fairbanks and Eva Novak with excellent support by Tom Kennedy, Trivie Lafuente, Frankie Darro and Arthur Rankin.

The story itself is of the triumph of a young police recruit over the leader of a gang of crooks in the worst precinct of the city. It seems that the young brother of a girl that Patrick Michael Casey cared very much about, got himself in the toils of the law by his unwilling connection with the gang in a robbery they committed. Casey gets the captain's consent to let the boy go if he goes out and brings in Tom Dugan, the gangster, who was head of the robbery. He finds his man and after a terrific struggle on the edge of a high roof, he knocks his man out and then rushes him through his own headquarters to the police station and redeems the boy.

William Fairbanks plays the policeman and he does a thorough job of it in every way. Eva Novak is the girl and the rest of the cast play up to the leads in a way that makes for a very satisfactory picture. The direction was in the capable hands of Henry McFae.

$50 IN PRIZES FOR CONTEST OF SCOUT PATROLS

Valley Executive Board Authorizes 6-months Race
Starting Dec. 1

Prizes valued at $50 for an inter patrol contest starting Dec. 1 and continuing for six months were authorized by the executive committee of Valley council. Boy Scouts of America, at the monthly meeting at headquarters here Tuesday evening. The remaining business of the session was mostly of a routine nature.

Each patrol will be scored weekly on given requirements, according to plans completed by the committee, and the one having the highest standing at the end of the contest will be the winner of first prizes. There will be three awards of $30, $15 and $5, but they will not be made in cash. The patrols deserving them will be given equipment or something else equivalent in value to the designated sum.

Six requirements will be asked weekly of each patrol competing in the contest. There will be three points for attendance at troop meetings, one for being in uniform, three for attending church the Sunday previous to the troop meeting, one for having dues paid, two for each test which a boys passes and one for inspection on personal neatness. Weekly report blanks will be supplied each patrol leader. He will fill out the score for each boy in his section and compile the total for the week. The leader will divide this by the number of scouts in his patrol, and the average score will be recorded for the contest.

Contests of the past usually have been conducted between troops of scouts but they have not proved satisfactory because strong troops always had many advantages over weak ones. With the patrol as a unit, only small groups of boys are represented in each report and the race is on more of an equal footing. The leaders also have a better chance to stimulate the youngsters, because there are fewer to work with.

Mrs. Lillie R. Rossman, who has been staying with her aunt, Mrs. A. W. Priest, has gone to Seattle, Wash., to visit her son.

Special for Fair Day only.

DON'T LET GRAPE JUICE STAND LONG IN METAL TUBS

Grape juice which has stood for some time in a galvanized container is apt to cause severe nausea to anyone who drinks it according to Frederick J. Haskin, Washington, D. C., director of the Post-Crescent information bureau. Mr. Haskin was asked by an Appleton resident last week about the advisability of using grape juice which had stood for three days and nights in a galvanized tub. The questioner said that his grape juice did not look right as it had a reddish color instead of a rich purple grape color.

A Horonville reader of the Post-Crescent asked Mr. Haskin who H. P. Hobson was, and what war he fought in. Mr. Haskin wrote back that Hobson was a naval constructor who fought in the Spanish American war. On Jan. 23, 1898 he was made a naval constructor with the relative rank of second lieutenant.

Mr. Haskin received 35 letters from Post-Crescent readers last week, and answered ten questions. All questions should be addressed to Frederick J. Haskin, director of Post-Crescent information bureau, Washington, D. C.

LAWRENCE TIGHTENS SCHOLASTIC REGULATIONS

Procrastination, a malady often affecting students, has been dealt a death blow here at Lawrence college by the new rule adopted this week by the faculty. Under the new regulation, policy of giving "incompletes" or "conditions" to students who enroll in courses and then do not complete the work required for credit, is abolished. Hereafter a student either will fail or pass in his courses.

The new policy is the first step in the program of Dr. Henry Merrill Wriston, Lawrence's new president, to raise the scholastic standards of the college so high that they will take the lead among American colleges.

It is his desire that a student transferring from Lawrence to the strictest university of the country shall be able to do so without the loss of credit in the transfer.

150 MEN THROWN OUT OF JOBS BY MILL'S FAILURE

Island Paper Company Creditors Meet Soon to Decide What to Do With Plant

The passing of the Island Paper company of Menasha into receivership Wednesday threw nearly 150 workers out of employment. The company had a monthly payroll of about $14,000. It is one of the oldest paper mills in Menasha.

Hugh Strancke, secretary and treasurer of the John Strange Paper company, Menasha, was appointed receiver for the company in circuit court in Oshkosh Wednesday noon. Mr. Strancke qualified for the office by filing a bond for $50,000 and immediately took possession.

The company's liabilities were listed at $225,000, while the assets consist of the paper mill, machinery, manufactured stock and accounts receivable. The current assets were estimated at approximately $50,000. There is no bonded indebtedness on the mill.

It has not as yet been determined whether the mill will again be put into operation or whether it will be placed on the market for sale. A meeting of creditors will be held in the near future to decide on the course of procedure.

The turn of events was not altogether unexpected here, as there have been many rumors that the company was approaching a crisis. A number of stockholders' meetings were held within the last few weeks.

Officers of the company were D. T. H. Mackinnon, president; William Strancke, secretary and treasurer and manager; Angus Krull, superintendent. The company operated a paper mill and a sulphite mill, the former using ten 50-pound beaters, two 68 inch and one 57 inch fourdrinier machines, making wrapping paper and having a capacity of 70,000 pounds of paper every 24 hours, and the latter mill using three digesters and two wet machines, with a daily capacity of 60,000 pounds.

Bouck, Hilton Kluwin and Dempsey, of Oshkosh, and Frank Wheeler and Pelke, of Appleton, are the attorneys for the receiver and most of the creditors. Willis Bullard and Spencer of Menasha, are the attorneys for the company.

SIDE PAINED HER TERRIBLY

After Childbirth Women Should Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Restore Normal Conditions

St. Louis, Missouri.—"After my first child was born I was bothered with a pain in my side which became more severe the longer I let it go. It was terrible. I often had to lie down to get any relief. I was in a weak and run-down condition, and my side seemed to be the point for all the pain. I was this way for three months, then I read your little booklet and the testimonials it contained, and started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I could feel relief after the first bottle and I have found it to do all you claim for it. I had to repeat it again after my second child was born. I sure will recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends."—Mrs. N. R. LAYTON, 2726 A University St., St. Louis, Mo.

If you are suffering from any weakness which causes such symptoms as pains in the side and back and nervous feelings, give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial now. Do not continue to feel all run-down and half sick when relief is at hand. Sold by druggists everywhere.

CABLEGRAM FROM KARL WHITNEY TO MRS. LESLIE PRESCOTT

Have found worst suspicions confirmed regarding Zoe Ellington. All of Mother Hamilton's story in her letter is correct. Have discovered she is also a member of a band of thieves called "the coupe" and each one of them has to submit upon entrance to a branding of the fleshy part of the left hand. Mother Hamilton thinks that this gang knew of your pearls as they specialize in burglary of famous jewels. They sent Zoe to Mrs. Burke and through her to get access to you. Am writing particulars. Thought you should know this immediately as it might help in bringing the criminals to justice.

Telegram to John Alden Prescott From Mary Alden Prescott

Is it safe for me to come to you? I would not like to have my sleep broken into by burglars. I am very glad Sydney Carton was not concerned in the robbery. Have you sent Zoe Ellington to the prison hospital? Answer immediately.

MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT.

Letter From John Alden Prescott to Sydney Carton

Dear Syd: After you left last night, Zoe Ellington became much worse and died this morning at about ten o'clock, without regaining her senses.

All the while she kept asking Leslie to forgive her for coming into her home. Poor little girl, she gave away more of her life than she probably would ever have told if she had not been delirious.

Poor thing, she kept babbling, "He made me join 'the coupe' and I loved him so. I didn't want to rob you. I said I wouldn't. I won't. I won't, I won't."

Syd, she screamed and screamed and screamed until I thought I should lose my mind. They tried to calm her with opiates, but her nerves were in such a condition from the shock that drugs had no effect.

It seems the love she had for Leslie and the babies had worked a great change in her. She had emotionally refused to rob us and she paid for this resolution with her life. It has been a horrible shock to both Leslie and me.

After all, Syd, loves and ideals that are worth fighting for, are worth dying for. Zoe carried her banner on. JACK.

TOMORROW Letter From Mrs. Mary Alden Prescott to John Alden Prescott.

Adventures Of The Twins

ON THE MOON

"I think we shall have to look on the moon after all for some of Puff's lost buttons," said Juggle Jump to the Twins. "Mr. Peerbout may have heard of something."

So he pushed one of the magic buttons on his coat marked "stretch." And taking the Twins by the hand, they stretched too.

With one long step all three were on the moon. Then Juggle Jump pushed another button marked "shrink" and they all returned to their proper sizes.

"Why, how do you do?" said Mr. Peerbout, the Moon Man. "Do you mean to say that you haven't found the lost buttons yet?" For he knew all about it.

"Some, but not all," said Juggle Jump, patting his pocket where the buttons were tucked safely away. "We came to see if you knew anything."

"Not very much," said the Moon Man. "I have had so much trouble with my brakes lately, I haven't had time to think of much else."

"What's wrong?" asked Nick. "I can't say exactly," said the Moon Man. "But the Moon goes too fast, particularly down hill. The first half of the evening it does pretty well, goes right up the hill of the sky without any trouble. I scarcely ever have to change a gear."

"But when I get to the top, it wants to go down lickety split like a racing car. I can't hold it back. Why, the other night I was right over China when I should have been only as far as Japan. I was mortified to death."

"Queer! Queer! Very queer!" said Juggle Jump.

Just then the Dream Maker Man and his three sons came along. His three sons were Snoozle and Snuggle and Snore.

"I know the trouble," said the Dream Maker Man. "It's the clouds. The Weather Man makes the clouds run too fast past the moon and that makes the moon look as though it was fairly falling along."

"Snoozle, you run along the Milky Way and tell the Weather Man to blow his clouds more slowly. That will fix the trouble, I'm sure."

So off went Snoozle on his errand. Pretty soon he came back.

"The Weather Man says he can't help it," said Snoozle. "There's a queer-looking new star in the sky, and he's trying to blow it out—the star, I mean."

They all ran along the Milky Way to see the queer new star and there—what do you think? One of Puff's pearl buttons was hanging to another star by a thread. It had gone all the way to the sky when he sneezed.

"Hurrah!" cried Juggle Jump and the Twins. "Another button for the Fairy Queen's cloak! Puff will soon have enough buttons to hold him together again."

IT TAKES MORE THAN ROUGE AND POWDER TO MAKE UP YOUR MIND

Rheumatic Pains Go Swollen Joints Vanish

Thousands of sufferers have freed themselves from the bondage of rheumatism; rid themselves of the torturing pain; reduced the swollen joints; thrown away canes and crutches, and from helpless beings became able to work and be of use to themselves and their families.

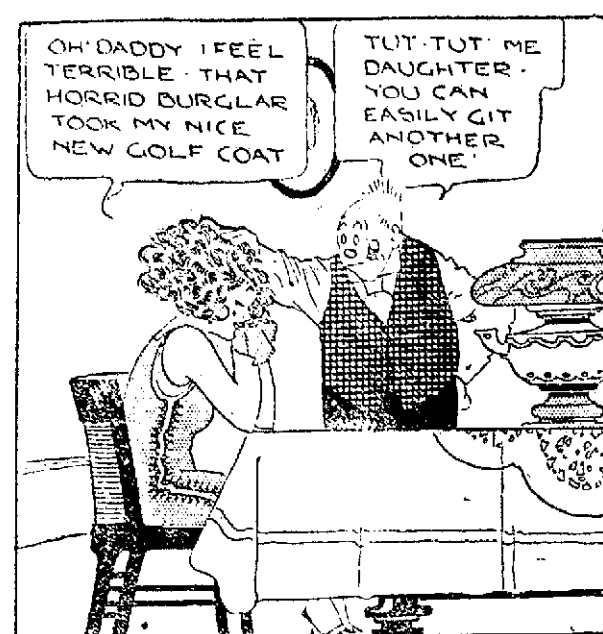

They took Rheuma: the modern enemy of rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, arthritis, and chronic neuralgia.

Don't be skeptical about Rheuma. You will know in a few hours after beginning the treatment that the poisonous waste matter is leaving your system through the natural channels. You will feel better in a day; you will know you are going to be helped in less than a week.

There is no guess work about Rheuma bringing you back to health. That's why Schlimz Bros. and druggists everywhere sell it with guarantee of money back if it does not give quick relief.

Garbage Plan Will Stop Stench In City Ravines

People who are weary of trying to bury garbage in their gardens, burn it or dispose of it in some other way because they cannot afford to have it hauled away or are unable to obtain satisfactory service are numbered among those who are signing petitions to have the city council provide this service.

Another group also is putting its name on petitions at drug stores or on the coupons published in the Post-Crescent. It is those who live next to untidy neighbors or in homes close to the various ravines. They have learned that a nuisance uncovered garbage dumped promiscuously becomes. They realize that if the city has a system of gathering up this refuse regularly from everybody in the city without charge, that the nuisance will be removed quickly. The offenders, they had, are the ones who won't pay for having garbage hauled away.

The chamber of commerce has undertaken to obtain signatures of all who want a municipal system, because the common council desires to know the wishes of the public. About $30,000 will be required as the initial outlay for the equipment, and with so many demands on the city treasury, the garbage issue may lose out in favor of something else if there is not a public clamor for it. The chamber urges everybody to fill out the blank below and leave it at the Post-Crescent or chamber of commerce offices. Petitions still are in the drug stores for those who want to sign there.

HEAVY TRAFFIC JAMS REPORTED IN BERLIN

Berlin—(AP)—Heavy vehicular traffic in Berlin betrays the idea that the city is still in a more or less paralytic state from the effects of the war, according to a traffic census taken recently by the National Zeitung at Potsdamer Platz.

Crossing this square, the center of traffic in Berlin, approximately 1461 automobiles, 1,261 bicycles, 300 street cars, 162 buses and 179 sundry vehicles were counted in one hour. Subway tunnels from each of the eight tunnels of the Platz have been proposed as one means of relieving the traffic congestion.

HOOVER LIBRARY HAS RARE WORLD WAR DOCUMENTS

More Than 44,000 Books in All Languages Treat of Great Conflict

Stanford University, Calif. —(AP)—The Hoover War Library, endowed by Secretary of Commerce Herbert C. Hoover at Stanford university has received 44,500 books and pamphlets in nearly all languages. Every one bears in some way on the World War.

The largest number, 12,000, are printed in Russian, 10,000 are in French, 9,000 in English. The rest are divided among Hungarian, Italian and other languages.

The library was founded in 1919. Many of the items printed or out of print, are irreplaceable. It offers students facilities duplicated nowhere and paralleled only at the Musée de la Guerre at Paris.

The program of the institution calls for procuring all important official documents of every nation throughout the war and during the reconstruction period. Three-fourths of this material already has reached the library. The manuscript collection includes 65,000 reports and communications bearing on conditions in Europe during and after the war. This file is supplemented by copies of private papers of men who were active in world affairs of the time. The library has collected from each country involved a file of newspapers to sympathy with the government, together with those of two opposition papers, representing the Left and the Right.

Mr. Hoover was graduated from Stanford in 1895. He is a member of the board of trustees.

JUNK DEALING INJURES SALES

Scrapping Is Most Vexatious Problem for Legitimate Merchants

From The Saturday Evening Post.

No more vexatious problem confronts the honest merchant who earnestly desires to give his customers something worth while for their money than that of educating over-trusting consumers out of the junk-dealing habit.

The desire to get something for a fraction of its real value is nearly universal and with the inexperienced buyer price rather than quality is the deciding factor.

No matter how eloquently a retailer may run down his own job lots and other inferior goods, there is always a demand for them, always a sublime faith upon the part of customers that they are taking advantage of an unusual opportunity which is an exception to the common rule that the lowest price means the lowest quality.

Sometimes a disappointed buyer who returns with a tale of woe about the poor service given by an article which the merchant did his best to prevent his buying will be shown the error of his ways and will replace the outworn junk with standard goods which cost only a little more and last three times as long.

As a rule, however, the junk buyer requires a lot of teaching and not one but 100 costly lessons must be learned before he can distinguish real economy from that which is bogus. Indeed many successful merchants declare that they must handle inferior goods so that in the long run, they may sell the best.

Women, as a rule, are far more economical buyers than men. They study quality and learn to know it when they see it. In buying unfamiliar merchandise they are likely to favor nationally advertised goods, for they well know what a hold they have upon the market.

Are You Serving?

The problems of food selection often cause the conscientious housewife a good deal of worry. Adequacy, wholesomeness, attractiveness and cost must all be considered.

The Government booklet entitled "Good Proportions in the Diet" covers thoroughly every detail of food selection. It tells what kinds of food are needed, gives the proportions and amounts of food required and suggests a number of menus for well balanced meals.

Every woman who is responsible for the meals of a household should have a copy of this book. Send for yours today. Fill out and mail the coupon below enclosing two cents in stamps for return postage.

DAYTON ALL SET TO WHIP PACKERS

Ohio Crew Has One of Finest Forward Passing Defenses in National Pro Loop

Dayton, O.—The Dayton Triangles will hit the trail for Green Bay, Wis., where on Sunday they will meet the famous Packers. Badger state champions in a pro league game.

Dayton played a tie game with Rock Island, 0 to 0. Canton counted twice in the last few minutes of play, dumping the Triangles 14 to 0. Detroit knocked off the Daytonians, 6 to 0, thanks to a pair of field goals by Gus Sonnenberg. Dayton held the mighty Yellow Jackets to a 3-0 count while Akron downed the Triangles 17 to 3.

This season, Dayton's offense hasn't been up to snuff but the defense of the Triangles could not have been improved upon. In Fenner and May, the latter a product of Knute Rockne's football school at Notre Dame, Dayton has a pair of the best ends in pro ball. They are both big strapping gridders weighing close to 200 pounds each.

"Pork" Bacon has returned to the line up, after being sick for several weeks and his appearance should greatly strengthen the attack as Bacon pairs up with Clint Abbott, shifty quarterback, in the air drive. Mahrt, who gained gridiron fame, at Penn State and Ken Hultin, former Purdue line crusher, will probably be the other two starters in the Dayton backfield.

Sauers, who plays tackle for Dayton, is one of the biggest men on the pro gridiron. He tips the beam at over 260 pounds but gets around lively for his tonnage. Donowitz, Ohio State star, is Sauers' playmate on the line and he too goes well over the double century mark. These two big fellows can be likened to a stone wall.

FORWARD PASS DEFENSE
Dayton has been promised several post season games in the East if they succeed in knocking aside the Packers and the Triangle squad will be in there Sunday traveling at top speed. Dayton has been drilling all week on a forward defense by which they hope to cut short the Green Bay drive.

HOW ELEPHANT ACTS TO MEDIC

Animal in Pain Seems to Know When Friendly Hands Are Coming to His Relief

(Dallas Love Sharp, in Nature Magazine.)

I know of a certain surgeon, one of the most noted specialists in his field, who was recently called in to operate on the foot of a circus elephant. The great creature was in pain. It was an abcess in one of the front feet and nothing had been found that relieved it. Matters grew rapidly worse. Trumpeting and swaying in pain, the elephant became nervous and excited, until even his keeper was afraid to approach him.

Then the surgeon came. Yes, he could relieve him. But did he dare? Pared that ever the true doctor in the face of pain or death ask himself if he dared?

He came up to the dangerous patient, two of whose legs were chained to heavy stakes, and spoke to him. He showed him the knife, the cleansing fluid, the bandages, and told him it would hurt, but only for an instant.

And the elephant understood every word that was said to him, or else he read the character and understood the friendly, fearless spirit of the man before him. He quieted immediately.

The doctor bent under the huge

Big Ten Gridiron Squads Have Easy Edge On East

Chicago—Big Ten eleven have a 3-2 edge in their intersectional games with the effete east thus far this season. And with but one more such clash on tap, that between Chicago and Dartmouth, Western Conference teams are assured nothing worse than an even break.

Michigan, Illinois and Ohio State have upheld the Big Ten banner successfully. Michigan, it will be recalled, tripped a supposedly strong Navy aggregation by the overwhelming count of 54 to 0. It was one of the most decisive beatings ever handed an eastern outfit by a team from the middle west. Critics throughout the country are still talking about the Yostian achievement.

Illinois surprised an unbeaten Penn eleven by downing the Red and Blue, 24 to 2, the renowned "Red" Grange running rings around the foe in his first and only appearance in the Atlantic seaboard sector.

Ohio State, early in the season, dished out a 3-0 reverse to Columbia, generally considered the best team developed at Morningside Heights since the days of Thorpe and Weekes a couple of decades back.

The victories of Michigan and Illinois were especially noteworthy, in that they were made against two of the east's outstanding eleven. Navy had tied Princeton, which last week trimmed Harvard, 35 to 0, and Penn had whipped "em all in her section for the past two years, including a really great Yale team among others.

The two defeats suffered by Big Ten teams came to Chicago and Indiana (Chicago fell before Penn at Philadelphia, 7 to 0, and Indiana succumbed to Syracuse, 11-0. Syracuse, like Penn, rates pretty close to the top rung in eastern circles.

In points scored the Big Ten has a decided advantage, the count reading 87 and 23. Each section was handed out a pair of shutouts, though Penn just escaped a similar fate, breaking into the figures by virtue of a safety.

Chicago will have a chance to even up for its Penn beating when it tackles Dartmouth. But judging from the way in which the Big Green team boasts such great backs as Oberlander and Lane, mopped up a previously undefeated Cornell eleven, a Slugg victory looks remote, viewed from any distance or angle.

True, the Maroons may add one more upset to an already lengthy list on the 1925 chart, but it isn't likely. Hence, the present season clashes between Big Ten and eastern eleven are apt to terminate with honors equal.

hanging head and told the beast to pick up his sore foot. As the ponderous thing came up and back on the surgeon's knee, the doctor felt a nervous tremor, shaking the giant form of the animal, and as he washed the fevered, swollen spot, and reached for his lancet, he felt the sensitive finger of the long trunk curl about and lightly grip the hair on his bent head.

It was an awful moment. But the touch of the trunk was like the grip of a child's confiding hand. The knife shot like a flame of fire through the throbbing lump.

There was a sound of blood, a groan of pain, a quiver through the mighty frame, and then, as the easing, like a soothing wave, spread over the vast body, the trunk let go. Its hold on the doctor's hair and life-raft aloft, swung wildly to the loud shrill trumpeting of relief and joy.

PROMISE FIGHT AGAINST COUNTY SHIFT OF TAXES
Appleton Supervisors Will Vote Against Burden Placed on City by Board

Appleton's six supervisors gave their assurance at a meeting of the board of public works at the city hall Wednesday afternoon that they would vote against the proposed increase of this city's portion of the county and state taxes, when the matter comes up for action at the county board sessions now in progress here. About $14,000,000 is added to Appleton's assessment and the city will be required to pay about six per cent more of the county-state taxes than last year under the plan. It was revealed in statements by the supervisors that Appleton would pay in all about $60,000 more than last year. Tentative figures set the total amount levied against the city as $216,000. Last year the city paid about $188,000. The increase is made in the face of announcement that state property taxes are to be remitted this year and that the assessment perhaps would be lower. The supervisors were willing to put up a fight on Appleton's behalf, but A. C. Rule, city assessor, declared that very little opposition was possible now because it is impossible to analyze the county's figures in so short time and find out how the assessments were arrived at. The detailed report had not been given out yet by the county assessor of incomes and the tax bill is due for action in a day or two. "The assessment is made known to the city every year about the time the board is in session. It was said, explaining why the city of Appleton has been obliged to accept the levy against its wishes. Mayor John Goodland, Jr., and Mr. Rule were planning to appear before the equalization committee of the county board Thursday afternoon to protest such an extreme increase in taxation as is proposed for next year.
